

Join the Evansville Area Inventors & Entrepreneurs Club as they host an exciting program on innovative downtown businesses.

Learn what kinds of imaginative and inspired businesses are drawing people back to downtowns across the country, and get new ideas to try in downtown Evansville.

PROGRAM

Innovative Downtown Businesses
Evansville Area Inventors & Entrepreneurs Club
Wednesday, May 8, 2013
6:30-8:30 PM
Creekside Place, 102 Maple Street, Evansville
No RSVP Required

SPEAKER

Joshua Clements, AICP
Community and Economic Development Educator
University of Wisconsin Extension (UWEX), Walworth County

Mr. Clements will speak about the UWEX Center for Community and Economic Development's innovative downtown businesses website. The site provides entrepreneurs and local economic development leaders with novel ideas for their downtowns. After attending this thought-provoking program, you just might be inspired to start the next innovative downtown business to be featured on the site!

Check out the UWEX Innovative Downtown Businesses site:

<http://www.uwex.edu/ces/cced/downtowns/innovative/>

Visit the Evansville Area Inventors & Entrepreneurs Club on Facebook and LinkedIn for additional info on the program.

